

The imposition of a mandatory wiretapping on internet based VoIP services is a violation of the fundamental freedoms on which this country was founded. It is important that we do not continue to cross the line and spy on our own citizens.

On further note, any services which we build into the system to spy upon ourselves are just as likely to be used by malicious intending computer experts (black hat hackers) taking what was meant for a law enforcement and turning it into a dangerous weapon for criminals and terrorists alike
